“Panta Rhei (everything flows). The wave is the manifestation of all change. Forged from the hard volcanic basalt of Mount Etna with the help of diamond blades, the light form, oriented upwards, is then glazed green and fired at more than 1000 degrees.

5676 10x80x4 sheets enclose the trees at the Caucasus park in Krasnodar in a sweet embrace which causes any contrast between materials and symbols, water and fire, hard stone and light forms, to simply melt away.”
